Executive Summary

To systematically address critical needs in the state, the South Carolina Energy Office (SCEO) has focused its 2006-2007 Strategic Plan on efforts to assist the public sector, including state agencies, school districts, colleges and universities, and local governments. Public sector assistance provides maximum benefit to our citizens, as improvements in operating efficiency allow more resources to be spent on programs to better our state. The Strategic Plan concentrates on six areas: Energy Efficiency and Conservation in Facilities, Transportation Conservation and Diversification, Energy Information and Awareness, Renewable Energy and Utilities, Radioactive Waste Disposal Program and an Innovative and Supportive Work Environment. Each of these program areas increases the productivity of the public sector while providing energy information and policy guidance for the public at large.

A major component of the Energy Efficiency and Conservation in Facilities Program is the Rebuild South Carolina project (established with a grant from the Department of Energy) to assist public organizations in energy management. Organizations need to establish baseline measures for energy use before we can assist them, and we will continue to provide assistance in tracking energy consumption data for public agencies and school districts. Organizations can become Rebuild South Carolina (RBSC) Partners, opening them up to full-service energy management coordination.

Contracted engineers provide audits of facilities that specify areas where physical and operational improvements can be made. SCEO staff work with the auditors, the organizations' energy managers, and necessary public officials to review the audits, make recommendations, and move to implementation. Experienced SCEO staff assists organizations in the development of a Request for Proposals and other procurement procedures as well as locating financing assistance. In addition, the SCEO revised its public sector loan program to expand financing options for energy projects for state agencies and schools. Finally, once projects are implemented, the SCEO provides continual training for energy managers in the state, both through the Association of South Carolina Energy Managers and workshops sponsored through Rebuild South Carolina.

We also analyze and publicize energy consumption data at public agencies and school districts.

The Transportation Conservation and Diversification Program combines two themes of transportation sustainability. The primary concern is that petroleum is a fossil fuel and will eventually run out. Either our current consumption patterns must change, or we must utilize alternative sources of fuel. The theme of the transportation strategy is reducing petroleum consumption through increasing the consumption of alternative fuels such as ethanol, biodiesel and compressed natural gas.

Energy Information and Awareness efforts make citizens aware of our services, the effects of high energy consumption, and techniques for conserving energy. We provide targeted programs for children in kindergarten through the twelfth grade. By educating children, we can have an effect on their behaviors in the future, as well as to provide enhancements to the State Department of Education curriculums. We also supply homeowners with information on reducing energy consumption so that they may become smarter and more efficient consumers of energy. Through a comprehensive Website, we provide information on all of the programs the Energy Office administers.

The Renewable Energy and Utilities program advocates the reduction of energy demand and the development of renewable resources for utilization by consumers. Reducing the demand for energy means that we will need fewer power plants to supply power, therefore reducing regulatory and infrastructure costs in the future. We also work with the supply side of the equation, helping to establish policies that will promote the development of renewable resources like landfill gas energy, biomass energy, and solar energy.

The Radioactive Waste Disposal Program provides management of the Budget and Control Board's low-level radioactive waste disposal facility in Barnwell County. The disposal site is leased to Chem-Nuclear Systems, which operates the facility in accordance with terms specified in the lease agreement. The Budget and Control Board establishes and adjusts the rate schedules for the disposal of radioactive waste at the Barnwell facility. Disposal rates for waste generated within the Atlantic Compact region cannot exceed disposal rates available to waste generators outside the region. As authorized by the Atlantic Compact Commission, the Budget and Control Board may enter into agreements with businesses outside the compact region to import waste for disposal at the Barnwell site. Approval of any non-regional waste is subject to the availability of disposal capacity, which is limited under state law.

The Energy Office's Innovative and Supportive Work Environment addresses the leadership, strategic planning, human resource capabilities, internal procedures, and customer satisfaction areas for the South Carolina Energy Office. These areas focus on creating and maintaining a high-performing organization.
